2. Access "Configuration" and add your token

This is the token configuration screen. You have two options:

- 1. Enable a single token for your Salesforce organization
- 2. Use tokens at a user level.

If you enable a single global token, your signature credit consumption will be reflected in a single signaturit account for your Salesforce org. Otherwise, user-level tokens allow you to use different Signaturit accounts for each Salesforce user. If you prefer this last option, click on "User-level tokens".

Remember that if you use a Signaturit Sandbox token for testing, you must activate the "Use Signaturit Sandbox" button.

Now, it's time to enter the previously copied token. To check that the configuration is correct you have to click 2 times: The first one, on "Check" to validate that the token is correct, and the second one on "Done" to save it. It is very important that you also click on "Done" to complete the configuration process correcty.
